Upstate-Global Collective: Summer Research Roundtable

To support this collaborative research initiative, the New York Six will host a bi-weekly summer research roundtable for students engaged in research for the Upstate-Global Collective initiative. These hour-long sessions will be held over video-conference, allowing students to connect regardless of their campus location. Individual students will be invited to discuss their work & present challenges, providing a forum to share resources and offer support. The tentative schedule and topics for discussion are proposed below. Topics are applicable to all research, regardless of the focus.

DATES AND TOPICS FOR DISCUSSION

Monday, May 23rd
“Access to Resources”

Monday, June 6th
“Research Design”

Monday, June 20th
“Data Collection and Analysis”

Monday, July 11th
“Review and Reflection”

Monday, July 25th
“Presentation”

Dates and topics are subject to change; time of meetings will be confirmed shortly. Connection will be through WebEx, requiring an internet connection, webcam and microphone. Alternately, students can connect their audio through a traditional phone by calling the toll-free line provided. For more information, contact Nell Bartkowiak, the Project Manager.
